

REGISTRATION :

A registration form is available.

web-site : ensv.fr/registration

Deadline for registration :

1 - Fish product inspection	January 15 th 2019
2 - Food Safety	February 15 th 2019
3 - Antimicrobial Resistance	July 15 th 2019

GENERAL ORGANIZATION :

Vincent BRIOUDES (vincent.brioudes@ensv.vetagro-sup.fr)

LANGUAGE OF TUITION :

English (fluency in English is required)

PREREQUISITES :

Trainees must have a degree of advanced studies in veterinary sciences or agronomy, and a minimum of 5 years of relevant professional working experience.

SPEAKERS FROM:

Representatives of research institutions, European Commission, FAO, OIE, WHO, WTO, central and local veterinary services, risk assessment agencies, veterinary schools, stakeholders of professional sectors...

ENSV VetAgro-Sup
National School of Veterinary Services
1, Avenue Bourgelat, 69280, Marcy l' Étoile,
Lyon, FRANCE
Phone : +33 478 872 545
Fax : +33 478 872 548
www.ensv.fr

RESIDENTIAL COURSES = 2019 =

CALENDAR AND LOCATIONS:

1. SPRING COURSE

FISH PRODUCT INSPECTION (SEAWATER & FRESHWATER)

One-week session :

Date: April 1st to 5th 2019 (Monday to Friday)

Venue: Lyon, Marcy l'Etoile (including a 3 day trip to a coastal area)

2. SUMMER COURSE

FOOD SAFETY

«Food safety for products of animal origin - International and European management and controls»

2,5 week session :

Date: June 12th to 27th 2019

Venue: Lyon, Marcy l'Etoile, France
(including a study trip to Brussels, Geneva and Paris)

3. AUTUMN COURSE

PREVENTION OF ANTIMICROBIAL RESISTANCE

One-week session:

Date: November 4th to 8th 2019 (Monday to Friday)

Venue: Lyon, Marcy l'Etoile

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

Through a variety of educational methods (lectures, cases studies, field visits and study trips), the ENSV Veterinary Education Courses aims to:

- Promote global governance by stimulating exchange in veterinary practice and experience;
- Participate in veterinary institutional and technical capacities; further cooperation of partner countries to develop mutual understanding.

The challenge is to allow participants to gather and share their experience through the presentation and use of different concepts; to question their own personal practice regarding OIE* and Codex Alimentarius standards. These courses are combined with the OIE Strategic Plan for capacity building activities, in terms of management, law and governance of Veterinary Services.

* World Organization for Animal Health

AUDIENCE:

- VETERINARY OFFICERS (OIE focal points, Senior veterinary officers, Executives of veterinary institutions or agricultural organizations, etc.)
- MANAGEMENT STAFF from private sector: animal production, pharmaceutical industry and agro-industrial sector.

TUITION FEES:

1 - Fst product inspection (one-week session in France Including visit of inspection sites)	3 000 €
2 - Food safety (2,5 week session in France including a European Study Trip)	6 000 €
3 - Antimicrobial resistance (one week session in France):	2 500 €

Tuition fees do not cover living expenses in Lyon, travel to or from France or insurance and visa costs. Session 2 tuition fees includes transportation, accommodation and meals during European study trip in Geneva, Brussels and Paris.

Living expenses in Lyon are about 100 € a day (accommodation and meals). Flights and travel expenses are paid by the attendees and are not the responsibility of ENSV.

